Present
Relative Values
by
Noel Coward
Directed by Daniel Brennan

PRESS NIGHT: THURSDAY 15th MARCH 2007 @ 7.30pm

showdon'ttell At Play At The Greenwich Playhouse

Following the success of their previous productions Loveplay, Mad Margaret's Revenge, Retired Hurt and The Games Room— all by 21st century playwrights - showdon'ttell bring their singular methods to bear on Noel Coward's comedy 'Relative Values.'

"I'll go through life either first class or third, but never in second"

showdon'ttell are the only theatre company in Britain that use the teachings of American drama practitioner Viola Spolin and bring their unique approach to the Greenwich Playhouse for the first time. Relative Values, one of Coward's less-performed works, sees the worlds of starry Hollywood and stiff-upper-lip Britannia collide with hilarious consequences over the course of a weekend at Marshwood House, deep in the garden of England.

As Nigel, Earl of Marshwood, returns home with his bride-to-be, movie starlet Miranda Frayle, his horrified mother and the servants of the house prepare themselves for the worst as long-buried family secrets come to light in deliciously painful circumstances.

showdon'ttell invite you to share in their enjoyment of a comedy in the best Coward tradition; a farcical exploration of society's view of the difference between the social classes.

Cast: Wendy Albiston, Leandro D'Andrea, Ben de Halpert, Karen Graham, Ross Holland, Brigid Lohrey, Simon Money, Susan Scantlebury and Oliver Wallace
